FLOWER SHOW AWARDS

2nd Place formal Arrangement, Carolyn Powers.

“Judges’ Favorite”, Trish Schooley

3rd Place Dish Garden, Kathy Owens.

Where would we be without our three wonderful AIFD Judges who take time to come each year! We are so grateful to Darryll Poper, owner of Standing Ovations, who has been with us since 1973; New Zealand born flower designer and consultant Jillian Browne, has been with us for 19 years; Miriam Somoano, Goldenwest College professor has been with us now for 6 years. Once again they were “blown away” with the quality and number of arrangements, dish gardens and succulents. Teacups and miniatures were a delight and the teaset arrangements were increased and beautiful! We invite you all to come back next year for another round of creativity! Well done everyone!

PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE:

NIGC can be very proud of its last two events. Arbor Day was a lovely memorial in honor of our members and family members who have passed on. The school children are always delightful in their presentation and the speeches from family members and friends were very touching. Gloria and Ruth supervised the planting of the flowers at the school, gave some lovely plants to the family members, provided refreshments and made it a beautiful day for everyone. Even the weather co-operated as it was a bright sunny day.

If you were not one of the more than 120 people who attended the Flower Show, you missed a very special occasion. The decor was wonderful, making the room so festive one couldn’t help but enjoy the day. Many thanks to Lynette Sewell and her creative committee for such a well organized and terrific event. Also, thanks to all the people who entered their designs.

The judges said that it was the best ever. So everyone who submitted an entry deserves to be complimented and of course congratulations to our winners Cathy Muirhead for “Best Theme”, Trish Schooley for “Judges Choice” and Joyce Levinson for “Best in Show.” We have so many talented people in our club.

Even though I am writing this message before May begins, I am confident that our members’ doors will be decorated for May Day. So thank you Diane Bateman, Tina Szafaryn and your committee for encouraging participation in this tradition. It is always so much fun to wander around the neighborhood and admire all the creative choices.

Happy Mother’s Day everyone!

Kathy

GARDENER'S GALLEY

Avocado Dessert Pie

from the kitchen of Helen Roelfsema

2 avocados
1/4 cup lemon juice
1 (14oz) can sweetened condensed milk
1 (9 inch) graham cracker crust
Non dairy topping
chopped walnuts

Peel avocados and remove pit. In blender container combine avocados, lemon juice and milk. Blend 3 to 5 minutes until smooth. Turn into crust and cover completely with whipped topping as desired. Sprinkle with chopped walnuts. Chill in refrigerator 3 hours and serve. Makes about 8 servings.

ARBOR DAY

A sincere Thank You to all the Garden Club members who supported our Arbor Day on April 3rd. Ceremony included the planting of Calla Lilies along the Library wall. The highlight was The Naples Academy Student Council reading poems about Lady Bugs. Planting was in honor of our members or close family whom we lost this past year. Big Thank You to my co-chairman Ruth Gries and her valuable assistance.

AVOID MISFITS IN THE GARDEN

We've all done it at one time or another; selected plants that, somehow, weren't quite right for our gardens or climate. You're not alone, even landscape designers can go off the rail; or worse yet, their ego takes over and they design for themselves, not for you. To avoid costly mistakes and dust-ups with the 'experts', use your 'garden compass' to guide you in planning then slowly build your garden with TLC and make it truly yours.

A few suggestions: Whether you can visualize a garden design or not, clip ideas from magazines and build a storyboard with a look that grabs your eye. Rearrange these cutouts until you finalize your plan. Consider your lifestyle, property, and how your ideal garden will fit in with your house and your neighbors' properties. Next, sketch or doodle three or four designs showing fences, your house and other structures.

Mark off an area for the garden; it needn't be large. Sometimes, a small area is all that's needed. Don't over-work your garden...think of Audrey Hepburn's little black dress and a string of pearls. It's the cut of the cloth that counts, so is the shape of the garden bed.

Before planting install any of the following features: patio, seating area, fountain, brazier, BBQ, lighting, irrigation and pathway. Hardscape is the bones of your garden.

Take time planning your palette. If your house is a painted lady then opt for quiet and restful colors with more foliage. However, if your house has simpler lines then you're in luck; add some exotics and bold swaths of color. However, don't go overboard with color or else you may end up with a crazy quilt in your yard. Start with only a few anchor specimens; you can add more later. No need to crowd. Also, check out your garden area from the inside of your house. What do you see or would like to see outside your window? Windows are picture frames; compose with this in mind. Also, select colors for outside that are compatible and complementary with your interior color scheme.

Introduce a variety of textures, foliage shapes and heights to create those peek-a-boo areas and dramatic focal points. Greenery is vital to showcase those colorful plants and is equally plush in its own right.

Pretend for a moment that you're coordinating an outfit for a special occasion. First you select a dress or suit (the anchor plants), then the handbag and shoes (those are plants compatible with the anchor plants), then there's the jewelry (this could be one special plant that sets off a spark and gives your garden that Pop!). Put all of these points together and you will achieve a symphony of color and texture and harmony.

Neighbors and friends often give their unsolicited suggestions but, ultimately, your garden is your creation. Select plants on a whim or just because. Most of all, enjoy the activity and sense of fulfillment your garden brings you. It needn't be perfect...-nothing is so don't be afraid to experiment.

The April meeting speaker was Tom Larson, Manager of the Farm and Food Lab in the Great Park, Irvine. Innovative, knowledgeable and enthusiastic, he showed us areas of planted edibles, small spaces, butterflies, touch and smell gardens, to name a few, that offer a first time exciting horticulture experience for some school children. 40,000 people last year learned about agriculture life cycles, micro and hydroponic gardening, musical instruments created from plant growth and how all of the above aid health, wellness and development that serves the greater community.

FLOWER SHOW

LONG BEACH YACHT CLUB

After last year's Flower Show, this writer made the comment that we wished that "whatever sparked this wonderful turnout is repeated next year!" Well, you all certainly did that! What a splendid array of exhibits again this year...the judges were blown away! It was wonderful to see so much enthusiasm and so many entries and as last year, a number of members brought more than one entry. Almost 125 people in attendance walked into a spectacular Parisian vision of black, white and pink, Eiffel Towers on each table and each named with streets in Paris (as per Jan Dark.) Lynette and her committee of Marianne Huntley (who made chocolate Eiffel Towers), Margie Burri, Lynette Jordon, Diane Bateman and Patty Davis are to be commended for an outstanding event! Hooray to all! Let's repeat this again next year, shall we?!!
